

The Metropolitan Cooking & Entertaining Show

Atlanta, Georgia—April 30 & May 1, 2011
Washington, D.C.—November 5 & 6, 2011

The Metropolitan Cooking and Entertaining Show (MCES) and Mid-Atlantic Receptive Services (MARS) are proud to announce a new partnership which provides your groups with more value when attending MCES events. To enhance the culinary experience you will get from MCES, MARS can create a custom tour for you at their wholesale prices, saving you precious time and money.

“MARS is ecstatic to become a part of the MCES family. I know we can provide groups attending MCES events with an enhanced visit by allowing them to experience the food and culture of Washington DC and Atlanta” says Mike Stoupa, group tour planner for MARS.

Curry Uflacker, Director of Group Sales for MCES, worked very closely with Mike to create this unique relationship. “MARS adds extraordinary value to our groups attending the show. They have long established relationships in DC and Atlanta and are able to negotiate the best prices and services for hotels and restaurants. When our groups book through MARS, we know they are taken care of every step of the trip!”

The Metropolitan Cooking & Entertaining Show is the premiere consumer event in the nation for cooking and entertaining enthusiasts of all ages and skill levels. The shows feature exhibitors, live cooking demonstrations by DC's hottest chefs, tasting and entertaining workshops, and presentations from Food Network celebrities. This is a one-of-a kind event for anyone who loves to cook or entertain!

Atlanta show dates are April 30-May 1st, 2011. Giada de Laurentiis and Paula Dean will be headlining the show! We will also book one or two more Food Network celebrities and will let you know when those tickets go on sale.

Celebrity Chefs will be headlining the Washington, DC show this coming November 5 –6, 2011. Tickets are available!

For group ticket information to the Metropolitan Cooking and Entertaining Shows in Atlanta and Washington DC, please contact Curry Uflacker at 434-202-2394 or curryu@thetinykitchen.com.

For group tour package information to the Metropolitan Cooking and Entertaining Shows in Atlanta and Washington DC, please contact Mike Stoupa at 800-769-5912 ext. 111 or mike@takeafuntrip.com.